ABOUT

LEARN & PLAY PARROTS

Hi there,

My name is Marnie, and I'm the owner and toy builder behind Learn & Play Parrots. I'm excited to introduce my handcrafted line of bird toys to your store! As a lifelong bird lover and companion parrot owner for more than 20 years, I know firsthand how important the right toys are for a parrot's health, happiness, and overall well-being.

Over the years, I've observed parrots of all kinds at play — babies, breeders, re-homed parrots, and more. I noticed a common challenge. Many toys fail to hold their attention. Often, parrots are not given appropriate options, and sadly, some adult birds don't know how to play with toys because they never learned as babies.

Toys aren't just fun, they're essential! I design each of my toys to encourage parrots to use their natural instincts like foraging, shredding, chewing, and exploring. These activities keep their minds sharp and their bodies active, while helping prevent boredom, feather plucking, screaming, and other unwanted behaviors. With my toys, parrots have fun and learn while they play!

Working at a large bird store for several years gave me invaluable insight into the unique needs of parrots of different ages, species, and backgrounds. This knowledge, combined with my passion for birds, inspires me to create toys that parrots and their human companions love.

I'm proud to share my line of high-quality, handcrafted bird toys with you and your customers. Thank you for considering Learn & Play Parrots. I look forward to working together to enrich the lives of parrots everywhere!

Warm regards,

Marnie

TABLE OF CONTENTS

LEARN & PLAY PARROTS

NATURAL TOYS

Our natural toys are meant to be shredded, chewed, torn up and destroyed. Most toys are strung on paper rope. Natural sisal rope or seagrass rope can be substituted for the majority of toys.

NATURAL TOYS

LEARN & PLAY PARROTS

Mahogany pod toys are a favorite for many birds. Whole pods are fun and easy to tear up for medium-sized parrots and smaller parrots like large conures and caiques. Eclectus parrots are especially fond of mahogany pod toys. Babies like them because the pods are soft and crumble easily. This helps them gain confidence with toys and encourage more exploring. Pod pieces (slices) are appropriate for small and medium birds.

Parrots love following their instinct to forage! The cardboard rolls and large vine shapes stuffed with shredded kraft paper encourage birds to explore. Some birds need to be enticed by watching their favorite dry treats put into the shredded paper (such as nuts and seed). Each toy has a variety of other interesting parts. Some are crunchy or soft and others are more challenging, such as the coconut slices and pine spools, paper rope

Our toys are designed to reduce birds' frustration from boring or difficult toys. We accomplish this by adding parts that are easy to tear or chew, so they have a place to start. We combine these with more difficult parts such as grass bundles, vine tubes and harder wood. Balsa and sola wood additions are sure to get the play started.

Balsa wood toys with small pieces of sola wood are great for smaller beaks, baby birds and birds who are new to toys. Budgies and cockatiels love these toys! Medium-sized parrots enjoy chewing up balsa wood, too. Toys marked "small birds" indicates their small pieces would generally be quickly shredded by medium birds.

Soft sola wood toys are excellent for keeping parrots busy while they tear them to pieces. Sola ball toys are entertaining for small and medium-sized beaks. Medium-sized parrots may conquer sola balls quickly, but they're often a favorite! Toys comprised primarily of sola logs are better suited for small birds. Baby birds who are learning how to play love sola toys.
